What's Next For Kate Moss?

SHE RUINED HER REPUTATION AND LOST MODELING contracts worth millions. Now, after a one-month stint at Arizona's Meadows Clinic, Kate Moss, 31 — who was humiliated this fall when London's Daily Mirror ran pictures of her apparently snorting cocaine — is bouncing back.

Bye-bye boyfriend A source close to the supermodel says she has ditched Pete Doherty, 26, her beau of 10 months (and a notorious drug user) — and is leaving London for L.A. Dr. Clifford A. Bernstein, of the Waismann Institute drug treatment center in Beverly Hills, applauds Moss' moves: "We always tell [patients], 'Get out of the environment you're in.'"

Mum's the word Moss' number one priority these days? Daughter Lila Grace, 3 (dad is Moss' ex, magazine publisher Jefferson Hack). Says the source, "She's just wants to spend time with her daughter."

ERIC ANDERSSON

Pre-scandal, Moss shopped with daughter Lila Grace in NYC.

This is Moss' second trip to rehab but, says a source, "This time she's taking sobriety seriously."
